FIRE IN THE COUNTY.

An Incendiary Seeks the Destruction of Life and Property.

Yesterday morning just before 1 o'clock a Hebrew named Gold, who keeps a store on he northeast corner of Glasgow street extended and the Port Norfolk road, was awakened from sleep by smelling something burning. He got up, went into his store, but saw nothing wrong. He then went outside on the road and discovered that his store was on fire. He went back in the house, awakened his family and then called for assistance to help put the fire out. Several colored people who live nearby responded to his call for help, and by means of buckets of water they succeeded in putting the fire out before it had gained much headway.

The house is a one-story building, the front part being used for a store and the rear for his family. The party who set fire to the store cut a small hole in the corner of the house and then boured some oil in there on some old waste and then set fire to it. But for Mr. Gold awakening so soon after the fire was started the entire building would have been destroyed, and possibly some of the family might have been burned.

There was no insurance on either the building or stock.

Portsmouth Convict Escapes. (By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

Richmond, Va., March 28.-Richard Hawkins, a negro, convicted in Portsmouth and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary for burglary, es-caped from two penitentiary guards here to-night. They had just reached the Chesapeake and Ohio depot with a batch of prisoners. Hawkins made a bold dash for liberty. He has not been captured. The man is an ex-convict.

RAILROAD TAX CASES.

NORTH CAROLINA IN UNITED STATES COURT.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

Wilmington, N. C., March 28.-The taking of testimony in the railroad tax assessment cases before Standing Masassessment cases before Standing Master James E. Shepherd, of the United States Circuit Court in equity, was begun this morning in the United States Court-room, this city. The case is that of the Southern Railway et al. against the North Carolina Corporation Commission et al., involving the tax rate assessment of the railroad properties of the Seaboard Air Line, Atlantic Coast Line and Southern Railway systems in the State, and is in hearing before Judge Simonton.

The complainants seek to enjoin the Corporation Commission from assessing their property at the figures named by it, basing their argument upon the claim that all other property in the State is assessed at from one-third to one-quarter less than its actual value.

The Register of Deeds and a number of the Tax Assessing Board of the county were sworn to-day, and testified as to the rate of valuation of individual property in the county. Nothing definite resulted from their testimony.

The court adjourned until 11 o'clock to-morrow morning. ter James E. Shepherd, of the United

A RAILROAD DEAL.

CONTROL OF THE R., F. & P. CHANGES HANDS.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.) New York, March 28 .- The Evening

Post to-day says: "It may be stated on very excellent authority that the operation of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Poto-mac will be taken over by the Pennsyl-Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac will be taken over by the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohlo. Whether those roads will act separately or jointly is not yet settled, but the Richmond line will hereafter be dominated by these two companies, which heretofore have used it as a connection for the South. It extends from Richmond north to Quantico, Va.. eighty miles, on the Potomac river, where it connects with the Pennsylvania's line to Washington. It is also used by the Atlantic Coast Line and the Seaboard Air Line as part of their Washington lines. The success of the Seaboard Air Line in securing a charter at the recent session of the Virginia Legislature for a parallel line from Richmond to Washington has brought the company's affairs before the public. There is a possibility that the new control of the property, which may be taken as practically established, will make it possible to effect some arrangement by which the possibility of the building of this proposed parallel line will not be undertaken.

COTTON BAILING

SAVANNAH EXCHANGE ADOPTS A NEW RULE.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.) Savannah, Ga., March 28 .- The Sarannah Cotton Exchange is sending out a circular letter respecting cotton baling, giving a new rule with respect to which is to go into effect with the beginning of the next cotton year the beginning of the next cotton year. The circular says that on and after September 1, 1900, "all sales of cotton in square bales shall be based on packages of standard size (twenty-four by fity-four inches), and when bales of other dimensions are tendered for delivery an allowance of twenty-five cents per bale shall be made to the buyer by the seller on such cotton."

Copies of the above rule are being sent to the various exchanges of the United States, requesting their co-operation, and to farmers, ginners, merchants, newspapers and others interested in the general adoption of a uniform size cotton hale. The Galveston Cotton Exchange has practically adopted the rule.

Georgia Baptist Convention. (By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

Griffin, Ga., March 28.-The Georgia State Baptist Convention met here to-day with 150 ministers. The exercises were opened by Bev. E. J. Smith, of Tennille. Dr. W. Landrum, of Atlanta, delivered an address on "Church Organization; Its Value and Extent and How Best Secured."

The question of missions was then discussed. At the afternoon session ex-Congressman J. C. C. Black, of Au-gusta, addressed the convention on the ouery: query;
"To what extent should politics and secular matters be discussed from the pulpit?"

REORGANIZATION.

OF CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAIL-ROAD COMPANY. (By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

New York, March 28 .- At a meeting held in this city to-day, the Board of Directors of the Chesapenke and Ohio railroad was re-organized, presumably

Directors of the Chesapeake and Ohlo railroad was re-organized, presumably in the interest of the Pennsylvania railroad and the Vanderbilts by the election of the following as directors: S. M. Prevost, Samuel Rea, N. H. Parker Shortridge, Chauncey M. Depew, H. McKay Twombley and H. J. Hayden. The three first named are said to represent the Pennsylvania and the three latter the Vanderbilts, The other directors are G. W. Stevens, president; Decatur Axtel and H. T. Wickham. Rumors have been in circulation for several days regarding a proposed extension of the Chesapeake and Ohlo and including the acquisition of the Toledo and Ohlo Central and Kanawha and Michigan railroads. President Callaway, when asked to-day about these reports, said:

"There is not a word of truth in it. A majority of the stock of the Chesapeake and Ohlo is owned by the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads, and there are to be no extensions. The Chesaeake and Ohlo is now in a position where each of the other two roads named has a close interest in its policy and management, and it will not figure in any outside deals. The fact that the Chesapeake and Ohlo is a matural feeder as well as an outlet of the Big Four system made it necessary that the Vunderbilts, should have a voice in its management."

Another influential officer in the Vanderbilt system said:

"The time has gone by for the Chesa-

Another influential officer in the Vanderbilt system said:

"The time has gone by for the Chesapeake and Ohio system to be used in any new deals. It is the property of the Vanderbilts and the Peprsylvania, and a majority of the stock is put away where speculators cannot reach it. Undoubtedly such traffic all'ance as the Chesapeake and Ohio has which are of advantage will be muntained and strengthened."

and strengthened."
The Chesapeake and Ohio runs from Newport News to Cincinnati, and it is composed of a number of subordinate lines, including the Elizabeth, Lexington and Big Sandy, the Ohio and Pig Sandy River, the Kentucks and South Atlantic and the Virginia Midhad. There has also been close traffe relations between the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Kanawha and Michigan.
